

Matt Hanley, M.D., M.B.A

Chief Market Executive

Matt is a visionary healthcare executive who has held key leadership roles for several health systems in his 20-year career. As Chief Market Executive at Navvis, Matt leads efforts to accelerate healthcare transformation and the transition to value-based care across all Navvis markets.

Matt comes to Navvis having most recently served as the Regional President for SSM Health Wisconsin. He provided steady leadership during a critical time with the Wisconsin region delivering strong clinical and operational performance while continuing to meet the needs of team members and communities during the COVID-19 pandemic. In 2018, Matt served as SSM Health's Chief Clinical Officer where he was senior leadership's chief executive on clinical strategy and operations, leadership and culture, and care transformation. He had responsibility for enterprise information technologies and served on several boards, including the SSM Health Insurance Company Board.

Prior to SSM Health, Matt was the Chief Medical Officer for Atrium Health (formerly Carolinas HealthCare System), one of the leading healthcare organizations in the Southeast, based in Charlotte, N.C.

Matt received his medical degree from Duke University School of Medicine and a Master of Business Administration from Duke University's Fuqua School of Business. Dr. Hanley is board certified in emergency medicine.
